Noncom Graft in Clubs Hits $1 Million

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A gift lion, costly furniture and more than $1 million were part of a flood of illegal profit skimmed by top-ranking Army Sergeants from the enlistment clubs they ran in Germany, senators have been told in sworn testimony.

Testimony before Sen. Abraham Ribicoff's investigative subcommittee by a former Army investigator also charged Sgt. William O. Woodbridge—once the Army's top enlisted man—was a leader in a small band of fellow sergeants engaged in a systematic conspiracy to loot the clubs.

Investigator Irvin E. Beard also accused the Army of hiding the facts to avoid embarrassing Gen. Harold K. Johnson, who, as Army chief of staff, had named Woodbridge the Army's

Soviet Plane Report Irks Some as Military Spending Is Debated

By JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A report the Soviets are developing a brand new bomber drew angry counterfire as the House headed into debate over a $21.35 billion military spending bill.

Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., made the statement of a new Soviet bomber Tuesday in defending the bill's provision for development of an Advanced Manned Strategic Aircraft as the U.S. bomber of the 1970s.

The chairman of the powerful House Armed Services Committee said a report by other members that there is no evidence the Soviets are interested in such a bomber is inaccurate.

Saying he has access to classified information the other members don't, Rivers stated "we have every reason to believe Russia is well on the way toward developing a brand new bomber—I'm telling you this on my own responsibility."

The spending critics said Pentagon witnesses told the committee in closed session there was no such evidence. "If he has been cleared for that kind of information, he has a duty to review it with the committee before he reviews it with the press," said Rep. Robert L. Leggett, D-Calif. "For that reason I tend to discredit what he said."

Rivers made the bomber comment at a hearing at which the House Rules Committee cleared the military spending bill for four hours debate—over objections it should get at least 10.

"We're arming ourselves to the teeth and the gills and one day we're going to choke on it," said Rep. Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., D-Mass., in contending spending critics should get five hours speaking time of their own. "I don't know how we can expect to get peace in the world."

But Rivers, the bill's floor manager, said critics will be given every opportunity to try to cut $2.2 billion from the measure and promised debate will be extended into Friday if it can't be finished Thursday.

The bill, which the Senate debated most of the summer, is the spending authorization for the Safeguard antimissile system, planes, ships, tanks and other military hardware.

25 in Negro History Class

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—About 25 students have enrolled in a Negro history and literature course at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock.

Chancellor Carey V. Stabler, said Tuesday the number of students, including nine Negroes, was a "good deal more than we had expected."

The Students for Equality, a black student organization, had called for a Negro boycott of the class. The group said the course represented "tokenism."

Star to Print Full Draft of Constitution

The complete text of the proposed new Arkansas state Constitution will be distributed as a supplement to the Hope Star Thursday afternoon, Oct. 2, it was announced today by Alex H. Washburn, president and editor.

The supplement has 56 pages one-fourth the size of a standard newspaper page, equivalent to 14 standard pages, carries no advertising, and is stapled as a permanent publication.

The 8 by 11½-inch supplement is a joint public service, Washburn said, of Hope Star, whose offset printing plant photographed the master copy of the proposed constitution, and made the press run; and Etter Printing Co., Washington, Ark., which made the final trim and stapled the completed supplement. W. H. Etter is Hempstead County's delegate to the Seventh Constitutional Convention.

Thursday's printed text is the draft approved on second reading, subject to change on the third reading when the convention reconvenes early in 1970.

Berets Deny Knowing Man Killed

By JOHN EAGAN
Associated Press Writer
TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The former Green Beret commander in Vietnam said today he didn't know the alleged Vietnamese double agent he and seven of his men were accused of killing and denied there had been such a slaying.

"That is correct," Col. Robert B. Rheault declared when asked at a news conference if he denied there had been a killing. "No," he said when asked if he had known the person a newsman described as the "alleged dead man."

Rheault, 43, also was asked if he thought "the Vietnamese killed was a close political ally of President Thieu" and "do you think this might have resulted in the case being brought against you?"

"There was no conclusive evidence that the individual was ever killed and there is certainly no indication anywhere that the alleged victim was connected with President Thieu in any way," he said.

Defendants Win Suit at Helena

HELENA, Ark. (AP) — A U.S. District Court jury held Tuesday night in favor of the defendants in a $22,000 civil rights damage suit brought by a Columbia, Mo., restaurant owner.

James H. Driver, 35, brought the suit, charging that two Helena policemen falsely arrested and manhandled him the night of Jan. 28, 1968, as he walked down an alley during a tour of Helena.

The policemen were David Miller and the late Harold Nicholls. Then Police Chief Roy Ross also was named a defendant in the suit, but Judge Owen Harris dropped him from the action earlier Tuesday.

The jury of seven women, including two Negroes, and five men deliberated almost two hours before returning its verdict.

According to court records, Driver spent the night in the city jail and posted $170 bond the next morning on charges of disturbing the peace, assaulting an officer and resisting arrest. He forfeited bond.

79 Civilians Flee Viet Cong Village

By GEORGE ESFER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Seventy-nine Vietnamese civilians escaped from a Viet Cong village to an American patrol base north of Saigon and South Vietnamese infantrymen rescued another 91, the U.S. Army announced today.

The Army said the villagers had been forced to produce food for enemy troops while the villagers went hungry. Some of the refugees attended a Roman Catholic Mass at the American base and received communion for the first time in five years.

The Army said they had been held captive in the village of Duc Bon, 70 miles northeast of Saigon. It had a population of 400 before the exodus of the 170 civilians.

"Last night," an Army spokesman said, "Enemy soldiers, in a concerted effort to cut off the increasing flight of Duc Bon's population, rounded up and tried to move one quarter of the villagers to a new location."

He said South Vietnamese infantrymen intercepted a Viet Cong squad herding 91 civilians through the countryside, scared the enemy troops off with a volley of gunfire and rescued the civilians.

Spokesmen said the 79 other civilians had fled during the past 10 days to Landing Zone Mary, a patrol base of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division three miles south of the village of Duc Bon.

The civilians have been turned over to South Vietnamese authorities in the provincial capital of Song Be, 80 miles northeast of Saigon.

The Army said one group of 27 villagers who turned up at Landing Zone Mary Tuesday included 17 children.

"The spokesman for the group told the American infantrymen that they had for a long time been forced to produce food for local Viet Cong and North Vietnamese army regular forces, while they themselves went hungry," an Army communique said.

Capt. Herbert E. Barnes of Orlando, Fla., an intelligence officer, said: "When our interpreter told them, 'You are safe now,' their faces turned to smiles."

Elsewhere, three enemy arms caches were found by South Vietnamese troops 11 miles west of Saigon. The finds strengthened speculation that the Communist command is stepping up infiltration efforts in the capital.

Last week an American commander said the enemy was "doing his damndest" to infiltrate commandos and demolition experts into Saigon. Such tactics are expected to be part of the enemy's winter-spring campaign.

Allied troops continued sweeps aimed to find more enemy supplies while the war remained in a relative lull.

Public Asked to Send in Questionnaire

Industry seeking a new location considers the available labor supply as one of the most important assets a community has to offer according to Vincent Foster, President of the Hempstead County Industrial Foundation.

The Industrial Foundation and the Hope - Hempstead County Chamber of Commerce have had six industries recently who have considered Hope as a site for their expanded operations. At least two of these six prospects indicated that they would return and were vitally interested in the outcome of the labor survey now underway.

Mr. Foster went on to say that a tremendous number of individuals 16 years of age and over have not responded to the survey. He along with all Chamber, Employment Security Division officials and other groups interested in the industrial growth of Hempstead County urges everyone who has not completed one of the health and labor availability survey forms to do so immediately and return them to the Employment Security Division.

Proposal for Pullout Irks Other GOPs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Charles E. Goodell, struggling off a "bugout" charge from fellow Republican, says he hopes his proposal for total withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam will produce a searching inquiry into war policy.

The New York senator's bill to order a total cutback by Dec. 1, 1970 has drawn strong protests from the White House, which summed it up Tuesday in a one-word description "bug-out."

Hugh Scott, Senate GOP leader, said he applied the GI slang to Vietnam withdrawal proposals, and President Nixon agreed it was accurate. Within hours, Republicans were using it all over Capitol Hill.

"Hanoi has used some of these bugout resolutions and they've used some quotations of senators as a means of enforcing their hand," said Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo.

Allott even supplied a definition: "A bugout is when you pull out and put a date on a pullout or put numbers on a pullout in such a way that you have the position of the United States unguarded."

"I think they're bugged by my proposal," said Goodell. "It sounds like they have a unified line."

"I certainly don't think labeling it in that way contributes anything to an enlightened dialogue."

Another Republican who has criticized the pace of U.S. disengagement from Vietnam, Ohio Sen. William B. Saxbe, took issue with Goodell.

way," the colonel said.

Rhault and six of the seven other Green Berets involved in the case returned to the United States from Vietnam to this California base near San Francisco the day after the Army dropped murder charges against them.

They headed for their homes shortly after the plane set down and an Army spokesman said all would get 30-day leaves.

The colonel said he believed the incident "would better be forgotten... so long as people remember that we were exonerated." He acted as spokesman for the others during a seven-minute session with newsmen here after a flight from Vietnam aboard a chartered jetliner that brought 219 persons here.

Blevins Adult Classes to Start Oct. 7

Superintendent, Curtis H. Pharr of Blevins School District has reported that the Basic Adult Education organizational meeting was held on September 25.

Twenty adults from the Clow Community have registered for the class and 15 from the Blevins Center have registered. Application has been made for a Basic Adult Education Center at each place.

Classes will meet each Tuesday and Thursday night from 7:00 p.m. until 10:00 p.m. The application requests that the first classes will begin on October 7. Classes will begin on this date, provided the application is approved by then.

Mr. Pharr states that those adults not able to come to the organizational meeting are invited to enroll in the course once the application is approved. The purpose of the classes is to give instruction to those adults who have not finished the 8th grade in school.

first sergeant major. Senate aides said Beard's tale of kickbacks, padded payrolls, falsified vouchers and rigged slot machines is only the foothill of a mountain of information developed during eight months of probing alleged multimillion dollar thefts at Army clubs around the world. The clubs had a gross income last year of $750 million.

Tuesday's testimony brought a quick admission from Secretary of the Army, Stanley R. Resor that "a number of strategically placed enlisted men have apparently been able to abuse their positions in nonappropriated fund activities" to siphon the pay of their fellow soldiers into their own pockets. Resor said the Army is moving firmly to correct the situation.

The hearing also brought cries of astonishment from senators who were told the army expected the thousands of slot machines operated at various service clubs to bring in up to 70 per cent in profit.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., said that rate far exceeded that expected by Las Vegas gambling casinos.

Through it all, Woodruff sat frowning in a front row seat. His Army dress green uniform was decorated only with a blue and silver combat infantryman's badge.

Last month the Army revoked its award of the Distinguished Service Medal, its second-highest decoration, saying it had information Woodruff did not deserve it.

The sergeant would not comment on the accusations after the hearing.

His attorney, David Thomas, called Beard's testimony conjecture. He said no evidence existed present to a court martial or a trial.

Beard said his analysis of slot machine receipts during a four-year period indicated to him as much as $1.4 million might have been stolen from the gambling devices alone. "When I sought evidence in

Says Dropping Case Was in Best Interest

DUMAS, Ark. (AP) — The head of a group that was organized to help six Special Forces soldiers accused in the slaying of an alleged Vietnamese double agent said Tuesday night the Army's decision to drop the case was in the best interest of the nation and the military.

William Crews McCulloch of Dumas, chairman of the Green Beret Defense Committee, said he believed public opinion and pressure were instrumental in the decision not to press the charges.

"It was certainly in the best interest of the country and in the best interest of the military, not just for the Special Forces," McCulloch said. "It is possibly going to have some detrimental effect to the military, but nothing that is going to be lasting."

"I think it's a shame that such a blunder could occur (bringing the charges)."

McCulloch went to New York Sunday night to organize the committee's efforts to raise money for the defense of the Green Berets and to petition Army Secretary Stanley Resor to move the trials from Vietnam to Washington.

He learned of the Army decision Monday while he was in New York. McCulloch, 38, a farmer and real estate man, returned to Dumas Tuesday night.

He said he had not been in contact with any of the defendants since the Army announcement Monday.

McCulloch said his committee would be dissolved. He said that it had in hand only a small amount of money raised toward its goal of a minimum of $50,000 for the defense of the Green Berets and that this money probably would be contributed to a fund set up for the orphans of Special Forces members killed in Vietnam.

Newspapers in Washington Are Struck

WASHINGTON (AP) — The three daily newspapers serving the nation's capital were shut down by a pressmen's strike early today after union members rejected new contract offers.

Negotiations, which continued through expiration of the old contracts at midnight Tuesday, broke off early in the morning until 2:30 p.m. today.

First to be affected by the walkout of members of the International Web Pressmen's Union Local 6 was The Washington Post, a morning newspaper. The Post was 20 per cent through its press run when the contract expired.

Pickets also surrounded The Daily News and The Evening Star, both afternoon newspapers.

Spokesmen for The American Newspaper Guild, which covers editorial employees, and newspaper craft unions said their members would honor the pressmen's picket lines.

the club records, I found them inaccurate, missing, destroyed or concealed," he testified. He said later his own reports on the case have disappeared from Army files in Germany.

Beard charged also that Maj. Gen. William Cunningham, then 24th Infantry Division commander in Germany, acted to cover up the irregularities in the clubs and, in the investigator's words, "permit the persons responsible for them to go scot-free."

He said he became so frustrated during the investigation and so convinced that no charges would be pressed against those involved that he agreed with higher officers the case should be closed.

Although he said he could not develop evidence sufficient for prosecution, Beard said he is convinced a tight-knit clique of sergeants at the 24th Infantry Division at Augsburg, Germany "engaged in a criminal conspiracy."

"I knew that Sgt. Maj. William O. Woodruff, then division sergeant major of the 24th, was a leader in the criminal organization," he testified. He said all appointments in the clubs were controlled by Woodruff.

The first signs of trouble Beard said, came in 1963 when Ron W. Alcorn, who sold civilian clothing to soldiers, complained he had been accused unjustly of informing on large-scale gambling in the clubs even though he had given them more than $4,500 in gifts, including a live lion.

Parents of Most of Hippies Glad to Pay to Keep Them Away

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that a hippie gets tired of hearing:

"So he's a flower child, is he? He looks more like walking crabgrass to me."

"How many times have you changed the world this week, Ronnie?"

"Why is it that every time we start a protest march, it begins to rain?"

"Ronnie thinks he's punishing his parents, but actually they are glad to pay him money to stay away from home. He was beginning to give the neighborhood a bad name."

"Young man, if I give you bus fare, will you go to the barber college and ask them for a free haircut?"

"There's nothing in the refrigerator, Ronnie, except a can of beans."

"Suppose the millennium does come, and we don't like it either. What do we do then?"

"Well, if you insist on going barefoot, Ronnie, you have to expect to pick up a little glass in your foot until they toughen up."

"This is your last notice, fellow. Pay up your rent or out you go. This is a rooming house I'm running, not a charitable institution."

"I don't mind wearing these glass love beads right now, Ronnie, but of course if we get really engaged I'll expect you to buy me a diamond ring."

"Why is it you kids want to tear down society, but have no plans to build something in its stead?"

"Is that what a real live hippie looks like, Sam? Back where I come from we'd just call him a bum."

"Sorry, son, I couldn't lend you even two bits for that peacock feather. You'll have to try and pawn it some place else. "Ronnie would like to go to India and become a mystic, but he doesn't know how to hitchhike to India."

"There's only one way to tell if he's a genuine hippie. Offer him a job and see if he turns pale."

"Stop it, Ronnie. You're scratching yourself in public again."

"I know I should practice my yoga exercises, Ronnie, but it's hard to hold the lotus position on an empty stomach."

"We got thrown out of our pad. Is it all right if the four of us bunk in with you for a week or two?"

"There's nothing in the refrigerator, Ronnie. Absolutely nothing. Oh, I get so tired of all this freedom. I want to go home."

Jehovah Witnesses Plan Meet

It was announced by Eugene Shuster, President minister of the Hope Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses that they have been invited to attend the Fall Circuit Assembly of the group to be held Oct. 3 through Oct. 5 in Texarkana, Ark. Fifteen congregations in the Arkansas Circuit No. 2 will participate in the assembly it was learned.

The three-day meeting, which will draw delegates from all of southwest Arkansas, is sponsored by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York, who will send the principal speaker for the program.

The highlight of the convention will be the Public Talk at 3 p.m. on Oct. 5. More details will be announced later, along with names of delegates who will be in attendance from the local congregation.

Hurricane Is Slowing to a Crawl

MIAMI (AP) — Hurricane Inga slowed to a crawl some 235 miles south of Bermuda today. Forecasters warned the island to keep in close touch with the storm's movements.

The National Hurricane Center said the storm was moving toward the north-northeast at 5 to 10 miles an hour. Top winds were estimated at 80 miles an hour.

"At such slow speeds," forecasters said, "the track may become erratic. All interests in Bermuda are urged to keep in close touch with future advisories as a slight turn to the left of the forecast track would increase the threat to the island."

Early today the hurricane was centered near Latitude 23.5 north, Longitude 62.5 west.

Inga became a hurricane Tuesday after dawdling in the Atlantic for more than two weeks. It gained, then lost intensity as it moved to the east and then north of Puerto Rico.

Replacements Hired for Strikers

SILLOAM SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The city of Silloam Springs has begun hiring replacements for 10 municipal power plant employees who walked off the job Friday.

The employees walked off the job in a salary dispute that officials said began with the hiring of a new meter reader and the salary he was being paid. The 10 asked for salary increases Friday morning.

The city suffered a power failure Friday night.

The City Council Saturday morning suspended George Chaney, superintendent of the Electric Department, pending an investigation of the power failure.

Taxes Now Are Enough, McClerkin Says

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — House Speaker Hayes McClerkin of Texarkana said Tuesday that the taxes the 1969 legislature enacted were sufficient in relation to Arkansas' per capita income.

McClerkin, who has been mentioned as a possible Democratic gubernatorial candidate, noted that the per capita income for the state is $2,300 per person, which ranks Arkansas 49th. The legislature approved about $25 million in new tax revenue.

McClerkin told an El Dorado civic club that education was the most inflationary item in the state budget.

FALL DANCE AT COUNTRY

A fall dance at the Hope Country Club on Saturday, September 27 had Mr. and Mrs. John Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Monty Monts, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reynard for the host couples. For decoration the focal point of interest was an urn holding yellow and brown wild flowers.

About 100 guests enjoyed dancing to taped music, and a table holding an assortment of party snacks was available throughout the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Don Evans attended from Little Rock.

DUPLICATE CLUB PLAY

Mrs. Syd McMath and Mrs. R. L. Broach tied with Mrs. Taylor Stuart and Mrs. J.C. Broyles for first place in the scoring at the Hope Duplicate Bridge Club on Monday, September 29 at the Diamond.

Mike Kelly and Mrs. E.P. Young, Jr. were the runners-up. Of the 4 tables of players, Tony Graves of Memphis was the only one from out of town.

Coming, Going

Mr. and Mrs. G.D. Parsons, Couthatta, La. spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. J.P. Caston and Mr. and Mrs. M.S. Bates.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Boyett returned to their home in Oklahoma City last Friday after being in Hope for several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haynes and Mrs. Florence Hicks.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Evans, Little Rock, spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Lamar Cox.

Haskell Jones, manager of radio station KXAR, is on a business trip to Dallas and Ft. Worth.

Mrs. G.B. Morris arrived in Hope Tuesday from the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., and visits in Muscle Shoals, Ala., and Little Rock.

Forrest City Probe Claimed by Gazette

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Justice Department is reported to have started a civil rights investigation into Forrest City, scene of racial troubles since early summer.

The Arkansas Gazette said today the investigation reportedly had begun, but the FBI and Justice Department offices in Little Rock said they didn't know of it.

"I'm not saying there is not; I just don't know about it," said one Justice Department official.

Dr. Norman Saliba, a Forrest City surgeon and a member of the John Birch Society, said he had been contacted by the FBI. He said the FBI was "speaking with a lot of people."

Saliba, who is a member of the Forrest City School Board, said authorities apparently were making a general study of the city's racial problems.

The Gazette also reported that two persons who have been prominent in civil rights activities in Forrest City also were questioned at the FBI office in Memphis.

They were identified as Mrs. Peggy Vittitow, a white woman, and Lance "Sweet Willie Wine" Watson, a Memphis black militant leader who helped organize a Negro boycott of white Forrest City merchants, led a "walk against fear" through Eastern Arkansas and later was roughed up by a group of whites.

The Justice Department had been asked by the Little Rock chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, the society of journalists, to investigate incidents in which newsmen were roughed up by whites. The NAACP previously had asked the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Justice Department for an investigation.

About 250 members of the Concerned Citizens Committee, which had led picketing of the Forrest City police station and city hall in a demand for "law and order," met Monday night and heard a speech by St. Francis County Judge W. B. "Sonny" Hamilton.

Form letters were circulated at the meeting calling on President Nixon's help to see that "The constitutional phrase 'equal protection of the law' does not mean forced busing, closing of schools and requiring children to attend schools outside their neighborhoods to achieve racial balance, but only that there be no discrimination against anyone."

HELEN HELP US!

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

MATCHMAKING MOTHER SHOULD DOUSE THE GLOW

Dear Helen: I'm 28 and happily married, though my mother in her well-meaning way almost goofed it up. In fact, she DID scare away several prospects.

Now she'd doing the same thing with my younger sisters. She gets that "marriage look" every time they bring a fellow home, and the way she talks them up to eligible bachelors, well, it's like she was desperate. She praises their cooking, sewing, sweetness, the works, and even though my sisters are very marriageable, the guys get scared and run. Actually they aren't ready to settle down yet, but they'd like to keep male friendships. They can't always keep the men away from our matchmaking mother, so how can we get her to think before she speaks? She's really a dear and always "so sorry" afterwards, but she just can't help (as you once said) "the ring in her voice." — MRS. J.P.

Dear Mrs. P.: It's darn near impossible (as you discovered) to make a born matchmaker stop "glowing with bride." (cq) She does it unconsciously, and don't blame her overmuch, as most mothers develop a "ringing" in their ears when their girls reach marriage age.

If your sisters can't kid Mama into line, then they might work out a system of "stop" signals when she gets that marriage look. Most fellows understand, especially if they're in on some of the friendly teasing. Didn't yours? — H.

Dear Helen: I notice you are sometimes reprimanded by adult readers who are furious because you stand up for young people. Too often they see only what they hope to see, not the real good in youth. It seems they actually enjoy believing "kids are going to the dogs" so they can pound their chests and show how righteous they are.

My eldest grandson has long sideburns and a longer hair style, wears bell-bottoms and fancy ties, but works in a research department of a chemical company. Yet he gets "those looks" from "up-tighters" who can't accept change. Often he spends his weekends taking youngsters on outings they would never get to enjoy otherwise.

We recently lost our 15-year old dog. They boy next door felt so sad for us that he offered us HE much-loved dog as a replacement. When we explained how grateful we were but we couldn't accept, he said, "Any time you want to, come over and talk to my LANCER. We know how lonely you are."

Children of all ages are still the same. Socrates thought they were going to the devil and the world still does, but some of these so-called devils are now running our country, and some of the present crop will be doing a good job running it in the future. Our youth, for the most part, are holding up well in an insecure world shadowed by too many wars.

I'm glad you give them credit, Helen. — ME TOO!

Dear Me Too: Thank you for an extra-fine letter. You know, the so-called generation gap isn't so much between the young and older, as it is between members of the SAME generation. You, and people like you relate beautifully to youth, but I doubt you have much time for the doom-cryers in your age-group who see every long-haired boy and mini-skirted girl as a sex-crazed juvenile delinquent. — H.

Those Stray Hairs

No matter how attractive a hair style is, its beauty can be lessened by stray hairs at the nape of the neck. This is a special problem when setting shorter cuts and can be avoided by checking the back of your set in a three-way mirror. If you discover stray hairs, use a comb to shape them into a miniature wave or smooth them into place and tape them.

"To Make and to Cultivate Music," the theme of the Friday Music Club for 1969-70 was also the theme for the President's Luncheon honoring Mrs. Clarence Geist on Saturday, September 27 at the Heritage House. Colored flowers and "tools" for cultivating them, all made of paper, were the unique table decorations. Covers were laid for 20 including one associate member, Mrs. Haskell Jones, and one guest, Mrs. McRae Andrews. Mrs. Jones offered the invocation. Hostesses were: Mrs. Roy Stephenson, Mrs. W. A. Williams, and Mrs. Helen Hatch.

After the program chairman, Mrs. Hatch, had presented a salute to the club president, Mrs. Sam W. Strong was in charge of the installation of officers. In a most clever way, Mrs. Charles Reynerson spoke of the various officers in the terms of a symphony orchestra and presented a replica of their "instruments" to the people installed. They were:

President, Mrs. Clarence Geist; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Helen Hatch; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Calvin Smith; 3rd vice-president, Mrs. Joe Eason; recording secretary, Mrs. W. E. White; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Tom Hays, Jr.; treasurer, Mrs. McDowell Turner; auditor, Mrs. Charles Reynerson; parliamentarian, Mrs. Sam W. Strong; librarian-pianist, Mrs. B. C. Hyatt.

For the beautiful program, the group went to the home of Mrs. Hyatt, where she and Mrs. Donald Mushtare gave a two-act musical of selections by Bach, Purcell, Vivaldi, Bizet, and Moszkowski. Club guests for the program were Mrs. Herbert Stephens and Mrs. W. O. Beene. To conclude the events of the day, all joined in singing the Hymn of the Month and in repeating the Club Collect.

Rockefeller Again Raps Legislature

MENA, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller repeated Tuesday night his charge that the 1969 legislature would go down in history as the General Assembly that took longer to do less.

Rockefeller, pressing support of his tax program at a meeting of about 250 persons during a regional tour of this area, urged voters to talk to their legislators.

The governor also said that inflation had replaced the Vietnam war as the nation's No. 1 problem.

He told Mena supporters of establishing a vocational-technical school here that because of inflationary pressures it probably would be three to 18 months before the state could consider expanding its vo-tech facilities.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — With all the new shows in position in the network schedules, there is time to look at the old ones, back for another season.

"Mod Squad's" trio of young undercover operatives is still solving crimes and salvaging human wreckage weekly on ABC. Tuesday night's episode suggests that Michael Cole, Clarence Williams III and Peggy Lipton—unknowns 12 months ago—have grown comfortably into their roles, are more assured and work well as a team.

The story was a bit on the sticky side: The squad took on a bright, homeless Mexican boy, then found he was under suspicion as a burglar. But they pulled off his redemption and led him away from a life of crime.

Red Skelton, in his 19th consecutive season in weekly television, obviously purveys a brand of nonsense that never stales.

The format of the CBS show, unchanged over the summer, had some eye-filling dancing and some easy-to-take singing by the Lettermen. But it was the Skelton turns that made the show. Red, as usual, opened the hour with his monologue—a batch of beach jokes on everything from smog to bikinis. In the big sketch, Red and guest star Walter Brennan kidded the classic Western by playing rival sheriffs. It wasn't as funny as screams from the studio audience indicated but it had some funny moments during a high-stakes poker game.

CBS's "60 Minutes" bimonthly news show started with a painful but thought-provoking report on some of the 250,000 wounded U.S. fighting men from the Vietnam war—amputees in an Army rehabilitation hospital.

The segment showed a brutal face of war, yet the gallant attitudes of many of the shattered young men demonstrated hope and determination. Several said they were glad to have made the sacrifice; most had plans for busy active lives.

It was followed by an off-beat closeup of some young dropouts who adopted panhandling as a profitable way of life. Concealed cameras showed them begging passersby for dimes and quarters. One estimated he received an average of $8 an hour by asking for bus fare home.

Finally there was a report on a visit to the Soviet Union last summer by 13 students and their language teacher from an Atlanta, Ga., all-Negro high school. The students loved the people, enjoyed the sights, hated the food and felt they had benefitted by the experience. It was a rewarding hour.

Rice Yearbook to Feature Pair Nudes

HOUSTON (AP) — "I did it for Rice," says the coeditor whose nude photograph appears in the university's 1969 yearbook.

The publication, called The Campanile, is due out Thursday with a picture of Marilyn Penelope Johnson in the altogether and, for good measure, a smaller one of Dennis Rex Bahler also undressed.

Both 22, they were among 15 seniors chosen as outstanding students by the student body. Miss Johnson is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Willard Johnson of Quincy, Ill., and Bahler's parents are Dr. and Mrs. Dean R. Bahler of West Lafayette, Ind.

"We tried to capture some sort of their personality," Campanile co-editor Gary Grether said. "Penelope suggested a nude shot of herself because that is the only time a person is shown as her true self."

Miss Johnson is now a graduate student at State University of New York in Buffalo seeking a doctor's degree in English.

"I did it for Rice and the Rice community," she said. "But I don't want to talk about it because that puts it into a class of a publicity stunt."

Orioles, the Champs, in 5th Loss

By DICK COUCH

Ed Kirkpatrick and Sal Bando are going out with a bang, but the Baltimore Orioles are beginning to backfire.

Kirkpatrick slammed four hits—including a pair of homers—for the second straight game—and knocked in six runs as Kansas City whipped California 8-5 Tuesday night.

Bando ripped five consecutive singles, driving in three runs, in Oakland's 8-5 victory over Seattle.

But the Detroit Tigers peppered Dave McNally for three runs in the seventh inning and edged Baltimore 4-3, stretching the East Division champions' losing string to five games—their longest skid of the season. Minnesota's West Division kings, who take on the Orioles at Baltimore Saturday in the opener of the best-of-5 pennant playoff, nipped the Chicago White Sox 4-3 in an afternoon game. The New York Yankees decked Cleveland 8-2 and Washington drubbed Boston 7-2 under the lights.

Atlanta nailed the National League West Division crown with a 3-2 nod over Cincinnati while San Francisco trimmed San Diego 6-1; Houston topped Los Angeles 6-3 and Philadelphia shaded St. Louis 4-3 in other NL action.

Kirkpatrick, on a last-leg slugging spree, cracked a single and triple in addition to his 13th and 14th homers, leading the expansion Royals past the Angels and into a fourth-place tie with the White Sox in the West.

The 25-year-old outfielder tripled across the last of three runs in the opening inning, wasted a third-inning single, then drilled a two-run homer in the fifth and a three-run wallop in the seventh.

He had, heretofore, doubled and singled in five trips at Chicago last Sunday, driving in three runs. He has hit at a .343 clip in September, bringing his season average to .256.

Zando, going 5-for-5 at Seattle for the second time this season, boosted his batting margin seven points to .278 and raised his RBI total to 110. The stocky Oakland third baseman drove in one run in the Athletics' decisive fourth and one each in the seventh and ninth.

McNally, a 20-game winner for the Orioles who will pitch in Sunday's second playoff game against the Twins, led Detroit 2-1 with two out in the seventh, then walked Jim Northrup and Willie Horton. Bill Freehan then knotted the game with a double and Don Wert knocked in two more runs with a single.

The Tigers clinched the second spot in the East before a slim Baltimore turnout of 4,877. The Orioles must draw 3,411 for tonight's finale against Detroit to reach the one million mark for the season. They are assured of the lowest attendance of any first place club since World War II.

Jim Holt's first major league homer pulled the Twins into a 3-2 tie against the White Sox and they broke the deadlock on Ted Uhlaender's run-scoring single with two out in the ninth.

Al Downing pitched a six-hitter and contributed a two-run single and a double to the Yankees' 14-hit assault against Cleveland.

Mike Epstein poled a three-run homer and Del Unser produced three more runs with a bases-loaded triple, leading the Senators past Boston.

Panthers, Badgers Game of Week

The game of the week in 4A this week will be the clash of the Camden Panthers (4-0) vs. Arkadelphia Badgers (3-0) at Camden's Coleman Field on Friday night. Camden is the leader in the 4A East and Arkadelphia in 4A West.

Both teams are similar in that they have received some top performances out of talented underclassmen with just a few seniors. Camden has been basely a strong running team while Arkadelphia has been a strong passing team.

Both teams also boast good defensive units.

Other action this week will find Hope at Malvern in a West conference game and Crossett at Warren and Smackover at Magnolia in East conference action. Fairview and Lincoln have open dates.

In results last week the Magnolia Panthers handed the Crossett Eagles a 14-13 defeat while Fairview blasted Warren 46-7; Hope 43 Smackover 2; Arkadelphia 43, Prescott 0; Camden 28 Fordyce 14; PB Merrill 52 Lincoln 0; LR Catholic 21 Malvern 12.

Highlights of the week included Arkadelphia's Luther Guinn with an 86-yard touchdown run; Hope's Ronnie Massanelli threw three touchdown passes; Smackover and Hope each scored a safety on the other; Crossett had 255 yards total offense and lost; Fairview led the touchdown parade with seven last week.

Jimmy Harris of Fairview continues to hold the individual scoring leadership with 47 points. Luther Guinn moved into second place with 38 points.

Arkadelphia leads the league both in total points scored (334) and total defense against scoring (33). The Badgers lead in passing yardage with 571 yards while Crossett has total rushing yardage with 920 yds. Hope leads in defense against rushing (164) Lincoln, with defense troubles, has allowed 152 points.

The Standings:

4A East	Conf.	Season
Camden	1-0	4-0
Magnolia	1-0	3-1
Crossett	0-1	3-1
Smackover	0-0	2-2
Warren	0-1	0-4

Took Braves' Longest Win Streak

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Sports Writer
ATLANTA (AP) — It took Atlanta's longest winning streak to do it, but the Braves have won the National League West Division championship.

The Braves, who streaked to 17 victories in their last 20 games including 10 in a row, killed San Francisco's slim chances of tying for the title with a 3-2 victory over Cincinnati Tuesday night.

Atlanta ends its regular season against the Reds Thursday night and opens the best-of-5 series with the East Division champion New York Mets here Saturday with the National League pennant at stake.

Rico Carty, who hit .387 during the Braves' surge that began Sept. 9, drove home the winning run with a sacrifice fly in the seventh inning, capping a two-run rally.

Ace knuckleballer Phil Niekro gained his 23rd victory, relieved over the final two innings by veteran knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm, who retired six Reds in a row, three by strikeouts. It was Niekro's sixth straight victory over the Reds this season.

Wilhelm said after the game that he was "a little nervous" when he began warming up. "In a game like that, you've got to be."

Wilhelm, 46, logged his fourth save—he's won two—since the Braves picked him up on waivers last month.

Pinch hitter Mike Lum opened the seventh with a single to center and Ralph Garr, batting for Niekro, drew a walk, sending Cincinnati starter Gary Nolan to the showers and bringing on Wayne Granger.

Lum was forced at third on Felix Millan's bunt but Tony Gonzalez made it 2-2 with his fourth straight single, scoring Garr.

Hank Aaron walked to load the bases and Carty, who missed the field.

Game 'Doll'

LOS ANGELES (NEA)—In football, the stars of the game usually wind up with the game ball. Now the Los Angeles Dodgers have added a new twist.

The outstanding player in each winning game is awarded a Mickey Mouse doll, which was sent to Manager Walter Alston by a fan. The Dodgers have nicknamed the doll "Laughter."

Those who pore over their work seldom pour over it.

Picks Porks Over Mauled Horned Frogs

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — They usually play the Rose Bowl game in Pasadena, Calif., on New Year's Day. A preview could be forthcoming this Saturday when the Stanford Indians invade Lafayette, Ind., to take on the Bollermakers of Purdue in a battle of 2-0 unbeaten.

Both teams are ranked in The Associated Press Top Twenty—Purdue eighth and Stanford 17th—and both have top-flight quarterbacks. Purdue's Mike Phipps ranks seventh nationally in total offense while Stanford's Jim Plunkett is 15th.

Care for some more statistics? Purdue is seventh in team total offense while Stanford is third in total offense, seventh in passing offense, sixth in total defense and seventh in rushing defense.

Both teams could be looking ahead—Purdue to Michigan and Stanford to Southern Cal. After digesting the figures—and flipping a coin—the pick is Purdue.

Top-ranked Ohio State named the score—62-0—in their opener against Texas Christian and can probably do the same against Washington. The Buckeyes it is.

Penn State over Kansas State—This could be the second-ranked Nittany Lions' toughest game of the year. Both teams are 2-0 and K-State is eighth in total defense, third in rushing defense. The Wildcats also have a fine passer in Lynn Diekey.

Arkansas over Texas Christian—“We don't pay attention to the scores of our opponents outside the Southwest Conference,” says Frank Broyles of Arkansas, referring to TCU's drubbing by Ohio State. This is a conference game, and Arkansas will do most of the playing.

Texas over Navy—Full speed ahead.

Oregon State over Southern California—Upset special of the week. Trojans only won 17-13 with O.J. in L.A. last year. Fifth-ranked USC may be looking ahead to Stanford and Notre Dame. Beavers have come on strong since opening loss to UCLA.

Georgia over South Carolina—Peppercorn Paul Dietzel won't be smiling after this one. Bulldogs haven't been scored on in two games.

Michigan over Missouri—Don Moorhead-Glenn Doughty combo outshines Terry McMillan-Joe Moore.

Tennessee over Memphis State—Memphis won last week's Missouri Valley Biggie from North Texas, but Tennessee's a conference of a different color—the Southeastern.

Florida over Florida State—John Reeves won the battle of the air lanes from Bill Cappleman.

Notre Dame over Michigan State—Irish bounce back into the Top Twenty against the 14th-ranked Spartans.

Alabama over Mississippi—Bear Bryant wasn't happy to see Ole Miss upset by Kentucky last week. “I was hoping maybe they'd come in a little overconfident and fatheaded,” he said. But the Bear's got a running attack to complement Scott Hunter's passing.

The First Tight End
Egad, friends! The football statisticians are indeed fortunate they are working in the computer age.

The collegiate elevens are, to coin a phrase, operating on the theory the best defense is a good offense—hakkaff! And to prove they are right, the college lads are racking up first downs, yardage gained, passes thrown and completed in record figures that add up to scores of astronomical sizes.

Consider, if you will, Ohio State's 62-0 victory last week or Iowa's 61-35 triumph and Michigan's 45-7 winning total, or Tennessee's 45-19 win and how about the Ohio University-Minnesota 35-35 battle—70 points to no decision! One would think someone is—hoh-heh—stealing the left guard, along with the right guard, leaving the clubs defenseless!

After running the wild statistics from the past few weeks through our computers, the Hoople System forecasts a return to normalcy this Saturday. Most of the favored teams will win, with a few notable exceptions.

There are two upsets in the offing in the South where South Carolina's Fighting Gamecocks will surprise the Georgia Bulldogs, 21-14, and in a great intrastate battle we look for Florida State to nip potent Florida by a 28-26 count.

In the Midwest, Michigan.

REGGIE JACKSON, left, of Oakland A's, and Frank Howard, right, of Washington Senators compare notes on home run hitting as they go down the stretch neck-and-neck for major league home run lead. Both landed spots in the All-Major League team outfield, selected by the players for NEA.

Leopards Could Spoil Cat Streak

By RALPH ROUTON
Star Sports Writer

Unless the Hope Bobcats shake a letdown this week, the Malvern Leopards will have at least an even chance of spoiling the Cats' 4-AA Western Division opener Friday night at Malvern.

Records (Hope 3-1, Malvern 0-4) have already proven to be of no object, because the Bobcats' opponents have not begun to compare with the weakest of the Leopards' opposition.

Probably the biggest thing Malvern Coach David Alpe has going for him is the fact that his team is young (four seniors on defense, only three on offense) and thus has a gutsy attitude to come back as defending 4-AA West champions.

Like the Bobcats, the Leopards only have about three or four starters going both ways, and Alpe's lineup has great promise for future. Word comes down that the whole town of Malvern is really fired up for “Beat Hope Week” and Homecoming ceremonies, and of course the footballers will be looking to reconcile the four opening defeats.

All this so far has been the pessimistic side, which is more in truth this week that merely to build up an opponent higher than they really are. Now, for the bright side, including the “ifs.”

Let it be known right now, that Hope should beat Malvern and leave no dissenters to the validity of the accomplishment, for the Bobcats are now becoming what we hoped that they someday would be, a respected football team.

Defensively, Malvern will be throwing up the disciplined Texas 4-4-3 defense at the Cats, and in retaliation Hope must be successful offensively in order to win. And the Leopards also have added the Texas Wishbone

Washington gathered in two of Kapp's touchdown bombs of 83 and 42 yards among seven catches for 172 yards went out front among the receivers with 13 for 324 yards.

Hill had another big day, running for 141 yards and two touchdowns against New Orleans for the rushing lead with 208 yards.

Ben Hawkins, Philadelphia wide receiver, zoomed into the scoring lead with four touchdowns of Norm Sneed's passes in the Eagles' victory over Pittsburgh. Hawkins season total is five touchdowns for 30 points.

TV NOTEBOOK

David Makes A Case For TV

By JOAN CROSBY
NEA Entertainment Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—David Brinkley has never been an apologist for television, so when he defends the medium, attention, to use the words of Arthur Miller, must be paid. Realistic as usual, Brinkley agrees some of what is on is worthless. But critics who keep using the words "mindless pap" are, he feels, overlooking much that TV has to offer. "I can really only discuss what I know—the news field. I don't watch that much entertainment. But television's coverage of the elections is not mindless pap, the coverage of state funerals is not mindless pap, the coverage of conventions and space flights are not mindless pap."

"If anyone had useful criticism of the medium, we would welcome it. But just to dismiss it all with two words is stupid, wrong and not helpful."

Brinkley joins other NBC news correspondents on Oct. 7 when 2½ hours of prime time are devoted to From Here to the '70s, a study of the decade past and the one to come. His subject: television. His theory: During the '60s, TV showed the American people to the American people.

"It was actually a very difficult subject to cover. The important thing obviously is not TV, but what's on it. Television is like the telephone, of itself it's nothing. It's what's on it that makes it."

A recent poll of television viewers uncovered the fact that a large percentage of them feel TV can and does lie when covering such news events as the Vietnam war, riots and the Chicago conventions.

"That's such an obvious fact I don't see why they had to poll about it," Brinkley said. "Of course TV can lie. But I don't think it does. The word lie in this case is a euphemism meaning 'television can and does put on things I, the viewer, don't want to see.'"

"Recently I got a letter from an otherwise intelligent woman who asked why I wasn't objective in reporting what she called 'bearded hoodlums who coerced their way into colleges.' If I had reported that way, to her it would have been objectivity."

"Of course people who are demonstrating act up even more when they see a camera pointed at them. But what most people don't realize is that all of it is being filmed, and most of it doesn't get on. When people are acting up for the camera, it is phony and it looks phony. Except for the Chicago convention riots, I don't know of one instance where a live TV camera was covering. They are always covered by film cameras."

One other case of TV being a whipping boy which irritated David was an article in the New York Times.

"The writer (Herbert Mitgang) had the nerve to say that 'TV occasionally interrupted its commercials to present entertainment.' That same issue of the Times was 65 per cent advertising. Nowhere in the history of TV has the medium ever done that."

Two College Backs of Week Named

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
College football tradition, it's wonderful. Rutgers and Princeton, 1869; Notre Dame almost every year since. But this week The Associated Press decided to break with tradition and name two players as College Backs of the Week—quarterbacks Mike Phipps of Purdue, a 28-14 winner over Notre Dame, and Rich Policastro of Rutgers, a 29-0 victor over Princeton.

Phipps became the first quarterback in history—at least since the forward pass and accurate record-keeping became a part of the tradition—to lead his team to three consecutive victories over Notre Dame. The 6-foot-3, 206-pound senior from Columbus, Ind., completed 12 of 20 passes for 213 yards and one touchdown and scored once himself.

"The big difference was Phipps," said Ara Parseghian of Notre Dame, who has lost only eight of 51 games at the helm of the Irish, three of them to Phipps and Co. "He made the big play on every one of their touchdown drives. He has great poise, great touch and great leadership. He has to rank among the best quarterbacks in the country."

In his first two seasons, despite an ankle injury as a junior, Phipps completed 206 of 412 passes, 14 of them for touchdowns.

Against Notre Dame a year ago, Phipps was 16 of 24 for 194 yards and a TD. In 1967, it was 14 of 34 for 238 yards and two scores.

Coach John Bateman of Rutgers goes overboard on Policastro, a 5-10, 178-pound senior from Highland Park, N.J.—about 1½ miles from Rutgers Stadium.

"There's no better quarterback in the U.S.," Bateman told the New York Football Writers Tuesday. "He sets up real fast, has a very fine release, doesn't get jittery with people coming in on his perimeter and uses his pocket very well."

"He's a thinking man's quarterback. He does everything that goes into being a quarterback, and the team respects him."

Against Princeton, amidst the pressure of college football's centennial game and with Rutgers on NCAA television for the first time—Policastro hit on 24 of 35 passes for 260 yards and a touchdown. He also scored one. In two games this season, Policastro has completed 37 of 52 for a brilliant 71.2 per cent. Since he became a starter midway through 1968, he has thrown 17 scoring passes in seven games.

Iowa, Ohio State Lead Statistically

NEW YORK (AP) — Did you think 1968 was a high-scoring college football season? Now hear this:

In contests involving major college teams, the average combined scoring is 41.9 points per game. At the same stage of 1968 the average was 38.6, en route to the all-time mark of 42.4.

This was supposed to be the year the nation's defensive coaches put on the brakes with new ideas and shifts of more talented players from offense to defense.

But 12 teams are averaging better than 40 points a game and 18 others 30 or more. At this time last year it was eight and 11. Similarly, 28 teams are averaging more than 400 yards a game in total offense compared to 16 last season.

The team leader in total offense is Iowa, averaging 577 per game despite only a 1-1 record. Top-ranked Ohio State accounted for 565 yards in its only start while Florida is third with a 556 average in two contests.

Ohio State is No. 1 in rushing with 373 yards while North Texas State is the top passing eleven, averaging 400 yards.

San Diego State, a newcomer to the list of major schools, leads in total defense and rushing defense while Texas Tech paces the pass defense.

Ohio State Player Gets Line Honors

By HAL PARS
Associated Press Sports Writer
ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — "I'm surprised, really," said Ohio University's ace receiver Todd Snyder. "I've never had an honor like this before."

The 6-foot-2, 185-pound split end learned Tuesday he had been named College Lineman of the Week by The Associated Press for his stellar performance against Minnesota.

"I think Cleve deserves much of the credit," Snyder said. "He was on target almost all day." Cleve is Cleve Bryant, Ohio U.'s star quarterback, who completed 18 of 27 passes for 194 yards against the Gophers as the two clubs battled to a 35-35 standoff.

Snyder hauled in 12 passes, including the game-tying 14-yard touchdown strike in the final period while surrounded by three defenders.

His receptions, a school record, added up to 122 yards and he gathered in pitches of seven and five yards for two more touchdowns.

"I'm particularly pleased with the three touchdowns because it matched my entire production last year," the 20-year-old senior said.

Minnesota Coach Murray Warmath called the Bryant-Snyder duo "the best combination I ever saw." Describing Snyder, he said "his hands reminded me of a vacuum cleaner or an octopus with suction cups."

"It's a great thrill but it would have been so much better if we could have won the game."

Snyder, whose father Jim coaches the basketball team at Ohio U., holds nine records at the school with 79 pass receptions for 1,407 yards in his first two seasons.

A sports administration man-for, Snyder has pro football aspirations and most coaches feel he can't miss. "I'd like a shot at pro ball—it's been my dream."

Joe Namath Still Talks Retirement

BOSTON (AP) — Quarterback Joe Namath of the New York Jets' said in a television interview Tuesday night he expects to retire from professional football at the end of the 1969 season.

Namath, interviewed by Pat Collins on WBZ-TV's 11 p.m. Eyewitness News show, said his problems with knee injuries have grown and this season they're the worst they've ever been.

Namath said he and his doctors have decided upon an operation on the left knee at the end of the season, and that he probably will be finished with football after that.

"Does that mean you're all through at the end of this season?" Mas Collins asked.

"I can practically guarantee that," Namath replied. WBZ-TV said the interview was taped earlier in the evening at Namath's Bachelors III Club in Park Square.

The stage for the main event Thursday.

The two Americans were paired with the president of the International Golf Association, Juan Trippe, and Wee Chong Jin, president of the Singapore Golf Association.

Most competitors in the 45-team, 90-man international field are rating the Americans as the top challengers to take the huge gold plate cup—which still bears its original Canada Cup title—from depending champions Al Balding and George Knudson of Canada.

Balding said he gave himself and his partner a "better than even chance" to retain the championship they won last year in Rome.

People with time on their hands should get their watch bands adjusted.

HOPE NEWSPAPER HISTORY:
 The 1929 consolidation joined the two principal newspaper lines dating back to within five years of Hope's incorporation in 1875.

 1899 — Star of Hope founded as a weekly by Claude Mc-Corkle; converted to an evening daily by his son, Ed. McCorkle, publishing until the 1929 consolidation.

 The opposition line:
 1880 — Hope News founded by Lowry Brothers.
 1883 — Sold to Withers & Johnson, name changed to Hope Telegraph.

 1883 — Later in same year resold to Claude McCorkle and renamed Hope Mercury.

 1884 — Sold to James H. Betts, who named it Hope Gazette, under which name it was published continuously until 1922, published by Betts, J.L. Tullis, and Col. W.W.
 Folsom the last-named dying in 1916.

 1916 — Purkins & Gates bought the weekly Gazette and made it a companion paper to their new daily, Arkansas Evening Herald
 — but both papers suspended in 1922.

 1926 — Palmer was revived by Curtis Cannon as the weekly
 Hempstead County Review.

 1927 — Cannon sold plant to D.A. Gean, who established the morning Hope Daily Press.

 1929 — C.E. Palmer and A.H.
 Washburn consolidated The Star and the Press as Hope Star, with Palmer as president and Washburn secretary-treasurer.

 1957 — Following Mr. Palmer's death Mrs. Palmer became president.

 1969 — With Mrs. Palmer's retirement from Star Publishing Co. Washburn became 76 per cent owner and president — balance 24 per cent being held by Texarkana Newspapers, Inc.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Supervision Is Helpful To Prevent Heart Damage

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—What is meant by arteriosclerotic heart disease with coronary insufficiency?
 Can I live a normal life
 with it?
A—When one of the coronary arteries that supplies the heart muscle becomes hardened, it also becomes narrowed and is unable to carry a sufficient amount of blood to the area it supplies.
 Close medical supervision and restricted activity will help to prevent further damage but will not completely eliminate the risk of a recurrence.
Q—I am told I have no heart reserve. What does this mean? Can it be built up again? How can a doctor detect damage to a heart valve due to rheumatic fever?
A—When a trained athlete is sitting quietly, his heart is doing a certain amount of work. If he is suddenly called upon to perform a heavy physical task, his cardiac reserve would allow him to do so without undue strain. The amount of this reserve capacity varies in different persons and in the same person at different times.

If your heart is otherwise normal, a graduated program of physical fitness training would restore your reserve. But if your lack of reserve is due to a heart disease, as you suggest, such training would be limited or forbidden. Damaged heart valves produce a characteristic type of murmur which your doctor can hear through his stethoscope. All murmurs, however, are not a sign of heart disease.
Q—How long can one live with a leaky heart?
A—No one can tell you how long you will live. This is one of life's blessings. The outlook in any case would depend on how great the leakage is and how well the heart is able to compensate for it by working a little harder.
Q—Does a mauve color of the lips necessarily indicate heart disease? Could it be due to anemia?
A—A purplish color of the lips means that the blood is not getting enough oxygen.
 This is usually caused by a valvular heart disease but it may also be caused by pneumonia, severe asthma and some forms of poisoning. In anemia, the lips are pale.

 Here is another example of loser-on-loser technique from the new Solomon-Wilson book.

 North has a multiple choice at his first turn to bid.
 Some people would double two diamonds. There are others who would try two no-trump. North's choice of a raise to two spades meets with our approval. South's jump to four spades is a slight overbid but a threespade call would undoubtedly lead to a further bid by North. Anyway, we find South struggling with the spade game.

 West opens the king of diamonds and shifts to a trump.
 South is unhappy about this.
 He is sure that West is sitting with the ace of hearts in back of dummy's king and sees that repeated trump leads by the defense will make it impossible for him to ruff his third heart in dummy.

 There is more than one way to skin a cat and South found another way to make his contract.

 He started by playing three rounds of trumps and the king-queen and 10 of clubs. He overtook the 10 with dummy's jack and left the ace as a further entry.
 Then South led dummy's 10 of diamonds and discarded the four of hearts on it.

 West was in with the jack and was faced by a hopeless choice. A diamond lead would allow declarer to make a trick with the queen.
 South showed West his hand and West conceded the contract to South.

Rail Industry Auto Inspection Aired

By MARK BROWN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The railroad industry, threatened with selective strikes by shopcraft unions, has countered with a threat of its own—a nationwide shutdown of rail service.

A spokesman for the four involved unions immediately protested that the industry's announcement was aimed at forcing government intervention in the wage and work rules dispute.

But Chairman John P. Hiltz Jr. of the National Railway Labor Conference which represents management of the nation's 76 major railroads—said the move would be taken "both in the long-range public interest and as a matter of self-survival."

He said the shutdown would be called off if unions did not strike the seven railroads they have designated as the first to feel what the industry refers to as "whipsaw" work stoppages. The strike deadline is 12:01 a.m. EDT Saturday.

The unions' chief negotiator, William W. Winklesinger, said the strikes would go as scheduled unless the industry's announcement triggers President Nixon to invoke the Railway Labor Act and postpones the work stoppages for up to 60 days.

A dispute between signalmen and the railroads last April was the most recent threat of a nationwide rail shutdown, and this week's is the third in a little over two years.

During the April dispute—which was solved without government intervention—Secretary of Labor George Shultz forecast grim consequences to the economy.

He estimated a week-long strike would put a million persons out of work in addition to the 137,000 railroad employees. A two-week work stoppage would raise it to 3 million.

Among industries hardest hit by a strike would be automobile manufacturers, which depend on rail shipments of raw materials and distribution of their products, Shultz said.

If any section of the country would be deprived of adequate transportation by a rail strike, the Railway Act provides, the President can create an Emergency Board to arbitrate the union-management differences.

The board could spend up to 30 days investigating both sides of the dispute and another 30 days attempting to bring about an agreement. Meanwhile, union members would be required by law to continue working.

Hiltz said "the unprecedented divide-and-conquer tactics of the four shopcraft unions leave the railroads no alternative but to take unprecedented action themselves."

The unions have designated for strikes the Santa Fe, the Great Northern, the C&O, the B&O, Southern, Illinois Central and Erie-Lackawanna. They contend areas served by the railroads have other means of transportation available.

Winklesinger said the industry's move probably would nudge Nixon into creating an emergency board—a situation

Houston Is Best at Pass Rushing

NEW YORK (AP) — Houston's use of four defensive tackles has paid off with the best pass rush in the American Football League.

After the first three games, the Oilers have dumped the quarterback 11 times for 103 yards while showing the way in both total defense and pass defense, according to league statistics released today.

The Oilers have allowed only 211 yards per game and have restricted the opposition to 114 yards per game in the air. Kansas City is best against the rush with a 60-yard average.

On the offensive side, the New York Jets, beaten twice, still share the lead with a 369-yard average, exactly the same as the San Diego Chargers who beat them Sunday. The Jets are first in passing offense with 247 yards a game and Oakland is first in rushing with 154 yards per game.

Coach Wally Lemm of Houston used Carel Stith and Tom Domres for openers at tackle and then brings in Willie Parker and George Rice in the second quarter.

the unions hoped to avoid by striking only a few of the nation's railroads at one time.

Shopcraft workers now receive $3.39 an hour. They want a 10-cent-per-hour increase, extra pay for skilled workers, shift differential pay and a cost of living escalator.

Hodge Out Week for the Bruins

LONDON, Ont. (AP) — Ken Hodge of the Boston Bruins will have to be content to sit out at least one more week before taking part in scrimmage sessions, general manager Milt Schmidt of the National Hockey League club said Tuesday.

Hodge underwent an appendix operation two weeks ago but returned to training camp to begin light skating this week.

Bengal Tackle Praised for Fine Play

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Staley, Cincinnati's second year defensive tackle from Utah State, ruined Sunday for Kansas City's Jan Stenerud by blocking one field goal and partially blocking another during the Bengals' upset of the Chiefs.

For his fine work against the Chiefs, The Associated Press today named Staley the Defensive Player of the Week in the American Football League.

In addition to blocking the kicks, Staley teamed up with Andy Rice and Bill Burgey, rookie linebacker, to limit the Chiefs' ground attack to 126 yards.

Staley, 6-foot-3, 250-pounder, won a starting job last year as a rookie. The partially blocked kick in the first quarter was not an important factor. But the finale in the fourth quarter with nine minutes to go and Cincinnati leading 17-13 with the ball on the Bengals 22 was a big factor. Staley was credited with six tackles in the 24-19 victory over Kansas City.

Harry Jacobs, Buffalo middle linebacker, turned in a brilliant game in the Bills' 41-28 win over Denver, intercepting two passes against Pete Liske.

Willingness to See Wives Hopeful Sign

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — North Vietnam's willingness to see wives of imprisoned U.S. servicemen is being viewed here as a hopeful sign Hanoi may be re-evaluating its prisoner of war policies.

Pentagon officials also indicate belief the North Vietnamese move is a reaction to a Nixon administration campaign to focus international attention on the handling of American POW's.

This assessment came after North Vietnamese diplomats in Paris said Tuesday that would receive a new group of American women seeking information about husbands missing the war.

Only a few days earlier the North Vietnamese delegation had for the first time met with four other American wives from Dallas, Tex., trying to find out whether their husbands are dead or alive.

While North Vietnam's attitude toward such private meetings may prove to be of no significance, any sign of movement on the POW problem is encouraging, Pentagon officials say.

"They have had an indefensible world position," commented one official involved in day-to-day dealings with POW matters. "It has been not only wrong but also not smart. Now they may be looking for a way to ease themselves out of the fire."

North Vietnam may be holding as many as 900 Americans, most of them fliers shot down during the air war. The number is uncertain because Hanoi steadfastly has refused to provide a name list—an act which violates international agreements.

The Pentagon's official list of captured men totals 413 but there are 919 names on the missing list and many of those are believed imprisoned.

For a time, especially in the months preceding the opening of the Paris negotiations, the United States avoided making any possibly inflammatory public comments about North Vietnam's attitude on the prisoner issue, fearing the captured men might suffer, officials explain.

But with passage of time, and no success in Paris, the U.S. changed almost to a "what-have-we-got-to-lose" attitude.

With Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird leading the way, American officials have begun castigating the North Vietnamese, focusing on four major demands that:

The North Vietnamese and Viet Cong identify prisoners they hold.

—Release the seriously sick and injured men.

—Permit impartial inspections of all prisoner of war facilities.

—Permit the free exchange of mail between prisoners and their families.

Pentagon officials say that despite some encouraging pre-Paris comments by Hanoi's chief negotiator, Xuan Thuy, the North Vietnamese have settled on one hard bargaining position on the prisoner issue: That the question of freeing the POW's hinges on agreements to end the war.

Maxwell and Burnett May Not Start

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles reported Tuesday that it was doubtful that tailback Bill Burnett and fullback Bruce Maxwell—the Southwest Conference's leading rushers—would play in Saturday's league opener against TCU.

Both suffered thigh injuries in last Saturday's 55-0 victory over Tulsa, but trainer Jim Bone said he would permit Maxwell to work out today.

Burnett is the leading rusher in the conference and Maxwell is No. 2.

The Razorbacks worked on pass offense and defense Wednesday in preparation for TCU. Broyles said he had "great respect" for Steve Judy, the Horned Frog quarterback.

U.S. Dollar Hits New Low in Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — The U.S. dollar dropped to a record low 3.78 marks in the Frankfurt currency market today and the West German Central Bank offered to sell dol- lars at 3.83 marks.

The new dollar lows were es- tablished under a government decision to free the mark to seek its own level—an attempt to curb speculation on a mark revaluation upward.

The mark is officially pegged at 4 to the dollar. With the dol- lar under pressure in the last few weeks, the Central Bank had guaranteed to buy dollars from commercial banks at 3.97 marks.

But with the mark floating

Wednesday, October 1, 1969

free, record lows for the dollar were established Tuesday when the dollar closed on the open market at 3.83 marks. It was fixed at 3.84.

The Central Bank is not buy- ing dollars now, and its quoted 3.83 selling price was seen as a means to keep the price of the dollar down and the price of the mark up.

On the open market, the 3.78- mark price was far above the level expected in the event of revaluation. In May, Eco- nomics Minister Karl Schiller had called for a 6.25 per cent in- crease in the mark's value, which would have pegged it at .75.

Dealers said today there was lively trading with mark-buying dominating the action. There was no estimate of the amount of dollars coming in.

British-French Super Plane in Flight

TOULOUSE, France (AP) — The French-British supersonic transport plane Concorde slipped through the sound barrier today for the first time and the plane's commander said it "was much calmer than could be imagined."

Andre Turcat, chief test pilot for the Sud Aviation Co., told newsmen after the flight, "We stayed at supersonic speed for nine minutes at a speed of Mach 1.05. We carried out various operations which permitted us to appreciate the extraordinary stability of the plane."

A Mach 1.05 speed is 714 miles an hour.

Turcat was the commander of the plane but pilot Jean Pinet was at the controls.

The delta-wing plane took off from its home airport at 10:50 a.m. and company officials announced that it had pierced the supersonic level 39 minutes later.

The speed had to be measured by a ground radar network. The position of the plane at the time of passage of the sound barrier was given as over the town of Cahors. No sonic boom was heard on the ground.

Electoral Reform Plan Boosted

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's endorsement has given a strong boost to chances of getting a constitutional amendment providing for direct election of presidents through Congress, to the plan's chief Senate sponsor.

"Although presidential endorsement of the direct election plan certainly does not secure adoption by the Senate," Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., said Tuesday, "it would by my thought that the President's strong position would have a considerable amount of influence on senators."

who have not yet made up their minds on the subject."

Bayh went on to say after Nixon switched his position Tuesday that "I think we have an excellent chance of getting this thing through" Congress and he expressed hope for final action by the end of the year.

Support for the proposal also came from Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott who said the Judiciary Committee probably will report out the direct election plan.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, assistant Democratic leader, said he hoped to see prompt action on election reform but "it is impossible at this time to predict whether that plan will pass the Senate this year."

Nixon, in endorsing the direct election amendment, abandoned his earlier support of alternative electoral reform proposals. He came out for the House proposal under which the candidate with the most popular votes would be elected. A runoff between the two leaders would be required if no candidate polled at least 40 per cent of the vote.

Incumbent Stokes Is Re-elected

By STEPHEN H. MILLER Associated Press Writer CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Negro incumbent Carl B. Stokes defeated a self-styled law-and-order candidate by more than 31,000 votes Tuesday in Cleveland's Democratic mayoral primary election.

But Stokes won his bid for nomination to a second two-year term only after overcoming a lead of more than 20,000 votes which Robert J. Kelly, an electoral newcomer, built up in white sections crucial to the mayor's Nov. 4 general election prospects.

The final unofficial count gave Stokes 92,219 votes to 60,899 for Kelly, a 48-year-old former city service director.

Stokes became the first Negro elected mayor of a major American city in 1967. He also is the first Negro mayor of a major city to face a re-election battle.

"We're going to really have to work against Ralph J. Perk," Stokes said of the Republican county auditor he will face in the general election.

Negroes compose about one-third of Cleveland's population of 880,000.

Kelly said he congratulated Stokes "in conformity with the American tradition of politics" but held to his earlier announcement that he would not support the mayor in the general election.

The turnout of 153,118 voters compared with 200,000 when Stokes, the 42-year-old grandson of a slave, unseated incumbent Ralph Locher in the 1967 primary.

Perk said the smaller turnout indicated disenchantment with Stokes and promised a vigorous campaign in his bid to become Cleveland's first Republican mayor in 28 years.

Inmate Says He Worked Without Shoes

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An inmate of Cummins Prison Farm said in a petition Tuesday that it would be "cruel and unusual punishment" for him to work in the prison fields without shoes.

Jack A. Barber asked U. S. District Court to enjoin prison officials from subjecting him to "certain natural and unnatural elements which will be detrimental" to his health if he works without shoes.

Barber said in his petition that he asked for work shoes Sept. 24, but was denied them by a person he identified as Tom Pirtle, a prison warden.

Two other inmates filed petitions for writs of habeas corpus against "cruel and unusual punishment."

James R. Bradshaw alleged that he was subjected to "physical brutality" while he was in jail in Crittenden County. Bradshaw said he pleaded guilty to charges of forgery and uttering "under force and the alleged threats of the sheriff."

Jerry Denham said his petition was a class action filed at the request of the inmate population.

He alleged that an alleged incident that occurred Sept. 18 when he and a "disciplinary detail" were marched to the fields to pick okra constituted "cruel and unusual punishment."

Denham said that after two or three hours of work a trusty complained that some of the men weren't working fast enough and sent for two wardens.

there, we'll pray there," the Roman Catholic priest declared Tuesday night during a rally which capped a second day of Capitol Square protest against the legislature's recent reductions in welfare payments.

Hundreds of University of Wisconsin students have joined Father Groppi's delegation of 35, including a number of mothers, who left Milwaukee Sept. 21 on a 90-mile hike to the capital.

An 11-hour take-over of the Assembly chambers Monday, which a state official estimated caused $26,000 damage, led to a Circuit Court injunction against further disruption in the Capitol.

The injunction was issued Tuesday by Circuit Judge William C. Sachtjen at the request of state Atty. Gen. Robert Warren.

National Guardsmen with bayonets joined police in a ring around the Capitol as demonstrators picketed.

Assemblymen in the damaged chambers came within two votes of adopting a resolution under which Father Groppi could have been jailed for contempt of the legislature.

"Sometimes we have to pay for what we want," the priest told Tuesday night's rally in announcing he would defy the injunction.

Coads participating in the Capitol picketing chanted "Power to the mothers!" Small knots of hecklers shouted, "Chow for the shiftless!"

The Republican-controlled legislature returned from its summer recess Monday. The protest activity forced postponement of a review of $33 million in welfare programs, many of them involving antipoverty projects in Milwaukee supported by Father Groppi's marchers.

White Skin for Black Burned Victim

By RALPH DIGHTON AP Science Writer LOS ANGELES (AP) — Pauline Price awoke screaming, her nightgown ablaze.

She ran into the yard, a human torch. Neighbors stifled the flames with a blanket, but half her skin was burned away that night of April 24, 1964. A graft offered her only hope for life.

Mrs. Price is a Negro. When she came out of surgery, almost half her skin was white.

Doctors had covered 40 per cent of her body with the only skin available at the time, from a white male corpse.

Mrs. Price was the first human to receive grafts of skin treated with ribonucleic acid (RNA) as a way of combatting the process that makes the body reject foreign tissue.

Dr. Weldon Jolley, Loma Linda University microbiologist who originated the technique, says he since has used it in seven burn cases and it prolonged life in all but two.

Surgeons under the direction of Dr. Louis L. Smith of Loma Linda used as much as possible of what remained of Mrs. Price's skin to repair burns that showed, on her neck and arms and legs. But there wasn't enough for the rest of her body.

So 40 per cent of the grafted skin came from a white man who died shortly after she entered the hospital. She now has large patches of white skin on her torso, front and back.

Mrs. Price, 46, a tall, slender domestic worker, says she has lived happily, grateful to be alive. She says she has overcome resentment she felt upon learning white skin had replaced black.

"I was self-conscious about it for a long time," she said in an interview. "I was afraid of what my friends would think. But it turned out they didn't pay any attention at all. Like me, they're just happy I'm alive."

Mrs. Price spent five months in the University of Southern California County Medical Center, four of them under sedation to ward off pain.

"When the bandages finally came off and I found that about half of me was white, I'll admit I was worried some," she recalled. "But after they told me I had been dying and that the white skin was all that was available, I learned to live with it. I usually wear long sleeved turtleneck blouses and sweaters and it's hardly noticeable at all."

Mrs. Price said racial prejudice was not the cause of her worry. "It was the discoloration," she said, "nobody wants to be two colors."

Mrs. Price says the fire started after she went to sleep smoking a cigarette. "I still smoke," she says, "but you can bet I don't smoke in bed."

After five years, Dr. Jolley says he still cannot account for the success of treating burns with skin soaked in a solution of RNA, one of the substances in the nucleus of cells which govern the manufacture of new tissue. It seems to inhibit tissue inflammation.

"The strange thing is that this soaking need be done only to the donor tissue, not to the recipient."

'Sex Week' at University of Nevada

By TERRY RYAN Associated Press Writer RENO, Nev. (AP) — Starting next Monday it's "Sex Week" at the University of Nevada. It will feature, sponsors say, talks on such topics as lesbianism, communal living and rape.

"The name is a little misleading," says Roberta Barnes, dean of women. "Basically, it is a program that deals with current issues and social problems."

"Sex Week," so named by the ent, he said, "Mrs. Price, for instance, received no RNA injections prior to the operation. Somehow, RNA makes the donor tissue acceptable to the recipient."

"It may be that we have been approaching the problem of transplants from the wrong direction. Instead of using drugs to suppress the immune reaction in the recipient, which leaves him vulnerable to diseases, perhaps the way is to neutralize the donor tissue so the recipient will accept it."

Dr. Jolley said RNA-treated kidneys and livers have been successfully transplanted in dogs and that he hopes to do this with dog hearts, and perhaps some day with humans.

An even wider application, he said, might be in inflammatory conditions such as arthritis, where the joints become inflamed. In animal experiments, RNA injections reduced the inflammation in joints.

Associated Women students, its sponsors, includes films on sex education and a university health department presentation on birth control, planned parenthood and premarital sex.

"These are timely and contemporary topics we are interested in," said Toni Karagiosian, vice president of the Associated Women Students. "I am not certain we have all the facts about them."

Money to finance "Sex Week" came from students fees.

The discussion of lesbianism will be led by Rita Laporte, president of the Daughters of Bilitis, a San Francisco-based organization which defends female homosexuality.

A show will be staged in the campus gymnasium by members of Messiah's World Crusade, a communal living group that travels with band, chorus and speakers to spread its message.

"Assaults on Women and Their Prevention" will be dealt with by the Reno police department. There will be a fashion show, titled "Sexuality in Fashion."

"I just hope people are curious enough to come and ask questions," Miss Karagiosian said. "They should be. These are problems in the world around us."

The Independent American party, Nevada version of George C. Wallace's third party, has passed a resolution censuring Gov. Paul Laxalt and the university administration for allowing "Sex Week."

Bankers Now Await World Reaction

By JOHN M. PEARCE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Like the stockholders of a mammoth corporation, the barons of world finance waited today to hear what the largest business of them all—the United States—thinks about the world's economy.

Economists, finance experts and publicity men worked late at the U.S. Treasury Department Monday preparing Secretary David M. Kennedy's speech to the annual joint meetings of the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank and its affiliates.

The Treasury had been quieter than usual about Kennedy's speech to the representatives of 111 other non-Communist countries, but unofficial sources had said it would be a broad review.

President Nixon told the finance ministers and central bankers Monday, in a message read by Kennedy at the meetings' opening session, that the institutions must work to restore price stability, attack the obstacles to development and reinforce the framework of international finance.

"I can assure you that this country aims to do its part, including dealing with the inflation that for too long has strained the vitality of our economy," the President said.

In addition, the West German decision to remove controls on the mark and let it find its own exchange rate—probably considerably higher than the current 25 U.S. cents—is likely to get considerable attention during the meetings' remaining four days.

Kennedy said Monday, shortly after the German decision was announced, that it "is understandable in the light of present circumstances, and we believe will serve a constructive purpose in dampening potential speculative forces."

His comment was a reference to the large amounts of other money being exchanged for marks by speculators gambling that its value would rise.

The fund itself and one other nation issued formal comments on the German action, although unofficial reaction from most countries was favorable.

The fund's executive directors said they recognized the pressure that caused Bonn to make its decision, and took note of Germany's willingness to consult with it and to resume maintaining a formal par value as soon as possible.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK

CHICAGO (AP) — Canada's business outlook for 1969 appears to be a bright one.

Commerce Clearing House, a tax law authority, said Canadian investment in new construction, machinery and equipment is expected to rise by about 8 per cent to $5.2 billion.

A Canadian government survey says 1969 capital spending by some 150 large companies is designed to provide preliminary indications of a trend.

Spaceport Is 20 Years Old on Wednesday

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The nation's spaceport is 20 years old Wednesday, and it's a long time since mosquitoes stopped a countdown.

Fewer than 100 persons were on the payroll when the Joint Long Range Proving Ground, as it was then called, was opened for business on Oct. 1, 1949. Now there are more than 20,000.

The base then encompassed only 15,000 acres. Today it takes in 103,000 acres.

The test range extended 200 miles into the Atlantic compared with the present 10,000 miles, and sending people to the moon was only a dream.

"We only had about 35 people then," recalled Asa B. Gibbs, a now-retired Air Force colonel who became commanding officer of the Cape in 1951. "They have more security guards than that now."

The first missile—a captured German V2 with an Army WAC Corporal second stage—was launched July 24, 1950, from a flimsy spiderweb of pipe and scaffolding.

The blockhouse was a wooden structure protected by sandbags.

A Jeep raced back and forth along a sandy road to scare away poisonous snakes.

It was a far cry from today's Apollo project with its cavernous assembly building, 363-foot-tall Saturn 5 rockets, computer-

Olympics of Motor Racing

By BOB COCHNAR
NEA Automotive Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—A day or two before the Thanksgiving holidays, some 400 athletes and their wives, girl friends, crews and buddies from practically every state will begin the slow southward trek to Florida and the largest event of its kind in the world.

The trip is slow because the various groups will be towing a wide assortment of expensive racing cars—from tiny Formula Vee machines powered by Volkswagen engines to the big-bore Corvettes and Mustangs.

The event is the sixth edition of the American Road Race of Champions, sponsored by Newspaper Enterprise Assn., Nine Flags and this newspaper. Observers call it the Olympics of road racing and the best sort of competitive racing found in the United States.

What separates this gas of a show from other spectacles, say the Indy 500 or the Can Am series, are several factors:

1—The Drivers. None is a full-time professional, in that the bulk of his income does not derive exclusively from the track. Rather, the pilots are club racers, members of the Sports Car Club of America who race for various reasons but mainly because it is fun.

This is not to say that the drivers do not possess the skills of the pros; they are dedicated to the sport but also to their careers. Some lawyers, doctors, psychologists and other professional men. Others are businessmen, mechanics, college students and computer programmers.

2—The Rewards. Although there is some prize money available as contingency awards from manufacturers (last year this totaled almost $100,000), there is no real purse. The money is purely secondary. Rather, the men race for unique sculptures designed by Bill Crawford, NEA's chief editorial cartoonist.

The awards have come to be regarded by the sport as handsome, treasured things unduplicated in any other event.

3—The Competition. The ARRC is a big race with some 20 separate classes which prevent little Fiats from running with Corvettes. The entrants, who are invited to participate on the basis of their performance in races held in their respective regions during the year, come normally as area champions. There are no rookies at the ARRC.

Consequently, the competition is intense and far more exciting than some so-called professional series. The drivers will win or lose in one 30-minute race. There is no time for fiddling with an imperfect car or correcting a minute driving error. The man who makes a pit stop loses almost automatically.

This year, the drivers go to the Daytona International Speedway in Daytona Beach to spend their Thanksgiving holiday, although there may be little time for the traditional turkey dinners. Most are too busy in the Speedway garage area to bother with food.

Because of its immensity (remember that even at Indy no more than 33 cars eventually see the green flag), the ARRC requires a co-ordinative effort generally unknown in any sport. Only the Olympics bring together a like amount of people and machinery.

Anybody who sees the American Road Race of Champions can hardly help but be impressed. He sees a full weekend of tough, combative racing—actually 20 different races in all, although some are combined.

He sees a splendiferous array of exotic and sophisticated racing machinery. There are the more conventional "sports cars" (Triumphs, Datsuns, MGs) berthed next to one-of-a-kind sports racing cars (similar to those competing in the Can Am series). There are the formula cars, open-wheeled single seaters which bear a casual relationship to the Indy cars and Grand Prix machines. And there are any number of highly tuned sedans—Mustangs, Camaros, Javelins, Volvos, Saabs, Fiats, etc.

HISTORIC

early days of the 19th century after the Louisiana Purchase. By 1842, it was a well established community, and just before the Civil War had a population of 4,000 and a female and male academy for the elite that were also its cultural center.

When the Civil War broke out and Arkansas joined the Confederacy, Washington became a southern citadel. Thus it was that when Federal troops were about to overrun Little Rock, the documents of the Confederate State Capitol of Arkansas were moved to Washington by night.

For two years, 1863-65, the city served as the capitol in the old court house, which was built in 1892. This building, remodeled in 1939, still stands and will be the scene of much activity during the Antique Show and Sale.

For years after the Civil War the fortunes of Washington went down and down. Now they are on the upsurge. The Pioneer Washington Restoration Foundation with the assistance of the Arkansas Publicity and Parks Commission has reconstructed, restored, and repaired buildings and landmarks. An antebellum atmosphere is being presented so that the present generation may step into last-century surroundings. Much has been accomplished.

The program will begin in the old school that has been converted into a Tourist Headquarters and Museum. Guided tours by members of the Pioneer Washington Foundation will be given to the historic sights including the Confederate State Capitol, the Old Tavern, built in 1824, James Black's Blacksmith's Shop where Jim Bowie's famous knife was forged, beautiful Block-Catts House, Gun Museum, the oldest Methodist Church in Arkansas, the Royston Home and the Garland Home, considered to be one of the most beautiful restored homes in the South.

If visitors wish to bring picnic lunches, there will be plenty of free picnic grounds available.

A short jaunt off the beaten path and the stay of a few hours will bring back vividly the days of Jim Bowie, Stephen Austin, Davy Crockett, Sam Houston, Albert Pike, Governor Harris Flanigan and many more. All roads leading to Washington are good highways, following in some areas the old trails of the territorial era. Along the drive, one may enjoy the glory and beauty of the autumn foliage as it glows across the hillsides.
